Ike Says Summit Confab Chances Growing Dimmer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower believes the chances for a summit conference have become steadily dimmer in the last 10 days. He feels Russia's tougher than ever.

This Eisenhower pessimism — based on confidential reports from the Geneva foreign ministers meeting — is known on excellent authority. It embraces his view that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev may not even want a summit meeting.

It also is known on high authority that Eisenhower still is dead set against any recognition of Red China. The Communists there still are holding Americans as prisoners.

It can be reported, too, on similar authority that:

1. Despite his pessimism, Eisenhower remains perfectly willing to attend a summit meeting, provided there is decent progress at Geneva. That means Soviet recognition of Western rights and responsibilities in West Berlin.

2. Regardless of talk by Kremlin officials, Eisenhower is not convinced the Russians really want a summit meeting. He thinks the Soviets' real objective may be to split the Western allies, particularly the United States and Britain.

Medic Held In Slaying Said 'Sick'

WEST COVINA, Calif. (AP) — "My son is sick," says the father of a doctor accused of murder. "He should have been put away before this awful thing happened."

Raymond R. Finch was referring to the slaying of his daughter-in-law, Barbara Jean, 33. Police say Finch's son, Dr. Bernard R. Finch, beat and shot her after an argument over his affair with a young cocktail waitress.

The woman was shot running toward the home next door of the father, a retired optometrist.

"She fell just a few feet from the front door," said the father. "Ten more feet and she would have reached the safety of my house. My God, what a tragedy."

Finch will be arraigned today in municipal court.

He has denied any part in the slaying, insisting that he went to Las Vegas, Nev., Friday and remained there until police found him in the $150-a-month apartment of Carol Pappas Tregoff, 22, who was once a receptionist in his office.

Miss Tregoff contradicted the doctor's alibi by telling police that she drove Finch to West Covina Saturday night to talk to his wife about a divorce.

Miss Marie Anna Liholm, 19-year-old Swedish exchange student who worked as maid in the Finch Home, told police that Finch beat his wife and her — and threatened both with a gun.

O'Neill Client Holds $1 Bill Worth $10,000

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — A half of a $1 bill, which the will of a Marietta dentist says is good for a $10,000 U. S. Treasury note, has been reported found.

Former Gov. C. William O'Neill, a Marietta and Columbus attorney, announced today that he has a client who has the other half of a torn $1 bill which the late Dr. Braden E. Nida mentioned in his will.

The will of Dr. Nida has a provision which states that a $10,000 Treasury note will go to the person who, within a year, supplies the other half of a $1 bill attached to the will.

The serial number of the attached bill was P18975127H.

O'Neill said he plans to meet today with the attorney for Nida's estate, Charles K. Heckler. O'Neill would not say who his client is.

The search for the missing half of the bill began July 14 when the 62-year-old dentist's will was probated. He died July 5.

Area Farmer Seriously Hurt In Auto-Tractor Collision

LAWRENCE E. WRIGHT, 49, Route 2, Ashville, was critically injured when his farm tractor and trailer was struck from the rear by an auto at 5:20 p. m. yesterday on Route 23 about eight miles north of here.

Wright, who operates the Forezall farm near Ashville, was treated at Berger Hospital and transferred to University Hospital, Columbus, for a fractured pelvis and vertebra and internal injuries. He was listed in "critical" condition today.

Eisenhower feels the United States could be represented by no more capable man than Nixon, who leaves Wednesday for Moscow. And the President also believes that Khrushchev, in talks with Nixon, may make some proposal of substance regarding East-West differences. If that should happen, Nixon has been instructed to cable Eisenhower immediately for word on how he should react.

Eisenhower's pessimism regarding a summit meeting has been increasing since the foreign ministers resumed talks in Geneva on July 13. It can be stated authoritatively that on the basis of reports the President received from Secretary of State Christian A. Herter as late as Monday, State Highway Patrolman R. L. Ely said Wright's tractor was struck by an auto operated by Jean McCabe, 20, Route 1, Clarksville. Both the tractor-trailer, loaded with feed, and the auto were headed south.

Kay Congrove, 17, Route 1, Chillicothe, a passenger in the McCabe car, suffered a lacerated head and bruises. Virginia Arledge, 19, Route 1, Circleville, another passenger in the auto, received knee lacerations and bruises. Both were treated and released at Berger Hospital.

Sen. Kennedy Now Involved In Beauty Contest Dispute

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass.) has become involved in the Miss Universe contest.

Miss Sue Simone Ingersoll, a 21-year-old New Mexico entry in the beauty pageant, called a press conference Monday night in a Beverly Hills hotel.

First she explained that she withdrew from the contest — not because of official Roman Catholic censure — but because her chaperone wouldn't allow her to receive telephone messages.

Then, flanked by press agents, she issued a press release.

"There exists bitter feelings between religious groups in our country, and because of the analogies."

JERUSALEM (AP) — A cafe brawl turned into a street riot in Beersheba Monday night. The mob was scattered after 30 minutes.

Six policemen and a civilian were hurt by stones and 26 persons were arrested.

McDonald Hopes New Parley May Aid Steel

NY (AP) — Steelworkers Union President David J. McDonald personally will take a hand in wage talks with aluminum companies, hoping a settlement there might shorten the steel strike.

McDonald's attempt to win a wage breakthrough in aluminum was considered an unusual step. Aluminum industry settlements usually follow the pattern set by steel.

Contracts with the "Big Three" aluminum companies — Alcoa, Reynolds and Kaiser — expire July 31. The firms employ about 58,000 production workers. The steel union represents about 30,500 of them. A strike would shut down about 50 per cent of the country's aluminum production.

The week-old strike in the basic steel industry has idled a half-million workers and shut down about 90 per cent of the nation's steel output. It has brought unemployment to more than 40,000 workers in allied fields — coal, trucking and railroads.

Officials here have sounded a request for blood for Wright. They said he has been administered about 20 points since last night. Local Red Cross spokesman said the blood could be donated here when the bloodmobile comes to the Methodist Church Thursday.

Patrolman Ely said both the tractor and auto were heavily damaged in the crash. He said Miss McCabe will be cited for failure to have assured clear distance ahead.

Patrolman Ely said both the tractor and auto were heavily damaged in the crash. He said Miss McCabe will be cited for failure to have assured clear distance ahead.

The union strategy apparently is to try to win a wage increase in aluminum, then use this gain as a wedge to end the resistance of the steel companies to any increase in labor costs.

The steelworkers seek the same annual 15-cent hourly wage increase in aluminum that they seek in steel.

Average hourly wages in steel were $3.10 when the strike began. Aluminum wages range from $2.76 to $2.91 an hour.

President Eisenhower held two meetings in Washington Monday to discuss the steel strike. Both were private. One was his daily briefing on the situation by James P. Mitchell, secretary of labor.

The other was with the chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, Dr. Raymond J. Saulnier.

The Commerce Department announced in Washington it was taking steps for emergency action, should it prove necessary, to channel steel into high priority defense and atomic projects.

Questioned by newsmen, the 22-year-old red-haired beauty smiled faintly and admitted she knew nothing about Sen. Kennedy, the only leading Catholic presidential aspirant.

"I just felt the issue is important in view of a presidential election, so as to make it clear that Catholics are not dictated to. Even after the archbishop of New Mexico ordered me not to appear in a bathing suit in the contest, I did, and this shows we can disagree with the hierarchy."

Then she admitted something else — that she had not read the press release. Nor would she say who wrote it.

Miss Ingersoll's erstwhile chaperone wouldn't comment on her remarks.

But a pageant official said Miss Ingersoll "felt she was being overly restricted. If there was no restriction on telephone calls, the pageant would be a madhouse."

Meanwhile, Carol Jones, a 23-year-old Albuquerque secretary, was named as a Harry-up replacement in the contest.

A violent storm raked Athens, Ga., Monday evening and dumped more than 3½ inches of rain. Winds gusted to 50 m.p.h., and 1.3 inches of rain fell during the first 45 minutes of the storm.

As the President is making no guess as to how long the strike may last. And he isn't tipping his hand as to how long the government will rely solely on mediation.

Eisenhower is known to feel that the steel companies acted stupidly — with expletives — at the end of the 1956 steel strike. He takes the position that the companies increased steel prices more than $7 a ton at that time without first calculating the exact cost of the wage hike they negotiated.

But the President believes that in the current dispute the companies are highly aware of the danger of inflation and are taking it into account in negotiations.

As for the United Steelworkers Union, Eisenhower feels its officials are much like politicians — dependent on their constituents and thus determined to get as big a wage increase as possible every time they approach the bargaining table.

Eisenhower is most anxious to avoid any sort of intervention which would have any appearance of favoring one side over the other. He thinks both sides are straining for any sign of that sort.

In politics, Eisenhower is not naming the other eight GOP possibilities he could support. But he refers to all of the group as young and able.

Milk Bill Hit By DiSalle Veto

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Legislature with its eye on a session windup this week has run smack-dab into Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's fifth veto — this one on the so-called milk bill.

It takes a three-fifths vote of each house to override a veto. Since the bill to curb unfair business practices in the dairy industry got less than a three-fifths vote on original passage, no one is taking very seriously the chances that either house will override the veto.

And, apparently, the oil of peace has settled over the troubled legislative waters which late last week appeared to lie between the 103rd General Assembly and its

A 2½-hour conference between the governor and legislative leaders apparently has ironed out the knotty problem of the school foundation bill — a measure to split up more than 20 million dollars in extra school money which DiSalle has allowed for the next two years.

And, apparently without a serious fight, the Senate is reluctantly prepared to accept the watered-down, House-approved bill to liberalize benefits for injured workers.

Allies Warn Russia Anew

West May Break Off Geneva Conference

GENEVA (AP) — The Western Allies have warned Russia they will break off the Big Four conference if the Soviets continue to insist that East and West Germany negotiate on reunification of the United States.

The President's wife was there for the traditional ceremony of giving the ship its name and sending the Savannah into the water. It is the country's first non-military atomic vessel.

Another speaker, Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.), said the Savannah was "only the beginning of development of nuclear vessels of all kinds."

He noted that elsewhere in the building yards work was under way on a nuclear submarine and that Congress is considering a proposal for the Navy to build a second nuclear-powered aircraft carrier.

After the speeches, Mrs. Eisenhower was to strike a bottle of champagne and speak the part allotted by tradition to ship sponsors:

"I christen the Savannah."

It has been a long time, more than 140 years, since those words were first spoken and a little 320-ton paddle wheel steamer also called Savannah slid into the water.

That ship was the first ship with steam power built for Atlantic crossings. It carried an 89-hour supply of coal and wood to provide steam, and relied heavily on its sails for an initial ocean crossing that took 29 days.

Today's Savannah is steam-powered, too, but the fire will come from nuclear fission. The atomic reactor indirectly will heat the water and create the steam to spin its giant turbines.

In christening the Savannah at the launching today Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower completes a construction ceremony started on May 22, 1958 when Mrs. Richard M. Nixon, wife of the vice president, presided at the ceremonial keel laying.

The Savannah was built primarily because President Eisenhower wanted a ship now as an example of his campaign for peaceful use of atomic energy. He also wanted a basic prototype from which other and better merchantmen will be built.

The 21,000-ton Savannah is a show piece of nuclear power, gleaming fittings, ultramodern decor, viewing windows to see the machinery, and a television to peer with safety into the atomic generator's inner workings.

Her passenger list will be small, 60 persons; her cargo carrying capability modest, about 10,000 tons. Manning the Savannah will be 110 officers and crewmen, the deck officers and engineers specially trained to sail

Dr. Richard Landmann of Santa Fe declined to comment on the governor's condition after completing an examination other than to say Long was "apparently alright" and was sleeping.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower sees no real hope for a tax cut during his remaining 18 months in office, it was reported today on high authority.

But it also is known that the President at this time is planning no call for a tax increase.

Eisenhower's views on this and other matters domestic and political can be reported on excellent authority:

West May Break Off Geneva Conference

GENEVA (AP) — The Western Allies have warned Russia they will break off the Big Four conference if the Soviets continue to insist that East and West Germany negotiate on reunification as equals as the price for a Berlin truce.

Mueller Named Commerce Chief

Mueller has been under secretary of commerce since Dec. 3, 1958. For two years before that he was assistant secretary for domestic affairs.

Many Major Issues Remain Unfinished on Congress List

WASHINGTON (AP) — Action on formally Wednesday by the House Labor Committee.

Housing: Public hearings on President Eisenhower's veto of housing legislation start Thursday before the Senate Housing subcommittee. Some Democrats still are talking of trying to override the veto. A more likely course appears to be passage of another housing bill, perhaps just before adjournment.

Highways: Proposals on how to finance the nation's big highway construction program will be heard by the House Ways and Means Committee starting Wednesday. There has been pretty much of a deadlock on the program, with Eisenhower demanding a gasoline tax increase—a move opposed by Democratic leaders. But both sides have started to talk of compromise.

Interest rates: No action may be taken this year. The House Ways and Means Committee has come up with a compromise to Eisenhower's proposal for scrapping the present 4 1/4 per cent interest ceiling on long-term government bonds. It would give the President power, for two years only, to increase the ceiling.

Efforts to balance the budget still add up to a question mark.

Civil rights: Most members agree this is the major hurdle. An inkling on prospects in this field may come today when the Senate Judiciary Committee meets to consider a relatively simple bill approved last Wednesday by a subcommittee.

Labor regulation: A labor-management bill generally regarded as more acceptable to organized labor than the Senate version will

The department of Mental Hygiene and Correction also announced appointment of S. K. Armstrong as administrative assistant to John C. Waldner, chief of the department's Division of Business Administration. Armstrong has been supervisor of the division's Bureau of Accounts and Audits.

Electric Union Chief Is OK after Operation

WASHINGTON (AP)—AFL-CIO Vice President James B. Carey was reported today resting comfortably after an emergency appendectomy.

His office here said Carey, who is president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, suffered acute appendicitis while on a weekend trip to Harrisburg, Pa., with wife.

He underwent the operation Sunday at General Hospital in Harrisburg.

Many Changes Made Already In Ohio Setup

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Action has been taken on 75 per cent of the 90 recommendations for improvements at Ohio mental hospitals, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle reported today.

He said that contrasted with action on only about 30 per cent a month ago.

"The turning point is here," said Jay W. Collins of the Euclid Glenville Hospital in reviewing work done on the 90 recommendations he made to DiSalle.

"There is substantial reason to believe that the quality of patient care will show progressive gain in the immediate future."

"These prophecies are made after a study of the actions undertaken by officials of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction since my last report to you on June 4."

The latest report followed Collins' meeting last week with Dr. Robert A. Haines, mental health director, and his assistants.

"The department has stopped stumbling," Collins continued in his report to the governor. "The difference in attitude and accomplishment that has occurred in the last six weeks is highly pleasing . . . ."

Collins added that 13 recommendations still need definite action. They include such matters as fly-screening, food serving areas, improved dental treatment, suitable promotion policies and the like.

Commenting on lengthy reports from both Collins and Haines, DiSalle said he was "thrilled."

He congratulated Haines and hospital superintendents for their efforts and urged their continued progress. (Central Press)

NO DROWNING—The Red Cross offers this do-it-yourself life-saving idea for pools or wherever there's swimming: A post set in the ground, a 12-foot bamboo pole for extending to victims, an inflated inner tube, about 40 feet of half-inch rope, and a tin with a wrapper listing rescue tips. ## Ohio Considered Key State In Sen. Kennedy's Planning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Capitol observers believe Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) regards Ohio as his most important arena for a pre-convention bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Kennedy himself kept his silence on the point today. He has assured Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle he won't say until fall whether he will enter a slate of presidential delegates there in May.

But it was understood from good sources that the Kennedy camp already feels he has no choice but to run delegates in Ohio.

The reasoning is this: It is the only really populous state — and one with an excellent cross section of farm, labor and business votes—lacking a serious Democratic presidential candidate.

DiSalle may run as favorite son. Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) says not to count him out as a candidate either.

Few, though, give Lausche or DiSalle any real chance for the nomination.

One Ohio Democrat, Rep. Wayne L. Hays, said he doubts Lausche will, in the end, enter the primary.

A frequent Lausche critic, and a Kennedy admirer, Hays said if Lausche does run as a favorite son he will be defeated.

"He would be the low man against DiSalle or against DiSalle and Kennedy," Hays said. "Kennedy would beat him about 7 to 1."

Lausche was not available for comment on Hays' remarks. He rarely replies to such statements.

Kennedy has been talking in a highly optimistic vein to friends about his chances in Ohio. He was much encouraged after conferring with some of the county chairmen there on his last Ohio trip.

His big problem is finding some way of getting DiSalle actively on his side, a dubious proposition in BELLEFONTE, Ohio (AP) — A fire gutted a three-story building in the heart of Bellefontaine Monday night and early today.

Gutted was the S. N. Johnson Building, a brick structure about 70 years old. The building, owned by Mrs. Martin Lindholm of Bellefontaine, is located at the intersection of U. S. 68 and Ohio 47 just across the street from the Logan County Courthouse.

The first floor was occupied by a Gallagher Drug Store and Peck's

Many Major Issues Remain Unfinished on Congress List

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adjournment date for the 1959 Congress still is a big toss-up.

In its path are five major legislative hurdles: civil rights, labor regulation, housing, highways, and interest rates. Committee action on four of the five is scheduled this week.

Many members are resigned to being in session into September. Some hope to finish around Aug. 22. No one is looking for a July wrapup.

Still on the calendar are these major measures:

Civil rights: Most members agree this is the major hurdle. An inkling on prospects in this field may come today when the Senate Judiciary Committee meets to consider a relatively simple bill approved last Wednesday by a subcommittee.

"The department has stopped stumbling," Collins continued in his report to the governor. "The difference in attitude and accomplishment that has occurred in the last six weeks is highly pleasing . . . ."

Collins added that 13 recommendations still need definite action. They include such matters as fly-screening, food serving areas, improved dental treatment, suitable promotion policies and the like.

Commenting on lengthy reports from both Collins and Haines, DiSalle said he was "thrilled."

He congratulated Haines and hospital superintendents for their efforts and urged their continued progress.

Ohio Considered Key State In Sen. Kennedy's Planning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Capitol observers believe Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) regards Ohio as his most important arena for a pre-convention bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Kennedy himself kept his silence on the point today. He has assured Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle he won't say until fall whether he will enter a slate of presidential delegates there in May.

But it was understood from good sources that the Kennedy camp already feels he has no choice but to run delegates in Ohio.

The reasoning is this: It is the only really populous state — and one with an excellent cross section of farm, labor and business votes—lacking a serious Democratic presidential candidate.

DiSalle may run as favorite son. Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) says not to count him out as a candidate either.

Few, though, give Lausche or DiSalle any real chance for the nomination.

One Ohio Democrat, Rep. Wayne L. Hays, said he doubts Lausche will, in the end, enter the primary.

A frequent Lausche critic, and a Kennedy admirer, Hays said if Lausche does run as a favorite son he will be defeated.

"He would be the low man against DiSalle or against DiSalle and Kennedy," Hays said. "Kennedy would beat him about 7 to 1."

Lausche was not available for comment on Hays' remarks. He rarely replies to such statements.

Kennedy has been talking in a highly optimistic vein to friends about his chances in Ohio. He was much encouraged after conferring with some of the county chairmen there on his last Ohio trip.

His big problem is finding some way of getting DiSalle actively on his side, a dubious proposition in

Downtown Bellefontaine Building Hit by Fire

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP)—A fire gutted a three-story building in the heart of Bellefontaine Monday night and early today.

Gutted was the S. N. Johnson Building, a brick structure about 70 years old. The building, owned by Mrs. Martin Lindbom of Bellefontaine, is located at the intersection of U. S. 68 and Ohio 47 just across the street from the Logan County Courthouse.

The first floor was occupied by a Gallagher Drug Store and Peck's

ty chairmen, on their choice for president and allied matters.

Some of the politicians are naming names in their replies. Others aren't.

Religious 'Revival' a Hoax?

The current revival of interest in religion in America is pooh-poohed by a University of California sociologist, Seymour Lipset. Professor Lipset disputes two readily accepted generalizations:

1. That there has been a gradual growth in religious affiliation in America, until today more Americans attend churches or other places of worship than ever before.

2. That there has been a change in the qualitative character of religion, from an earlier fervent belief to a more secularized "social" churchgoing.

Not so, says Professor Lipset. Although formal membership has increased since the 1930s, church attendance and per capita contributions to the churches have not significantly changed from two decades ago. And the number of clergymen per 1,000 of population has actually dropped from a century ago.

As to the supposed secularization of religion, Lipset points out that the fervent "extremist" sects are stronger now than ever before. Too, "the secularized religion which observers see as distinctly modern may have been characteristic of American believers in the past. The same foreign travelers who were so impressed with the strength of our religious institutions in the 19th century also noted modern phenomena, such as the acceptance of all religions as equally valid."

Thus, there is both discomfiture and comfort for the churches in Lipset's findings. There hasn't been so much of a religious revival in the last 10 years, but mainly because the same high degree of church interest and attendance and giving has been present in American life from the beginning.

Good Movie Seen in U.N.

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Marlon Brando is anxious to do a film about the United Nations.

"But so far we haven't been able to come up with the right script," he said.

The actor became interested in the U.N. during a tour of South-East Asia a couple of years ago.

"I was impressed by the fact that people all over the world had given up good jobs to go to work for peanuts for the United Nations on its technical assistance projects," he recalled.

"I'd like to do a story that would allow people access to information about the U.N., which I feel by and large has been overlooked. But it would have to be a picture vital and interesting enough to make people want to see it. Otherwise, it would be shown only in church basements."

Brando, who has played everything from a rebellious longshoreman to Napoleon, has the role of a wandering guitarist in his 13th film, "The Fugitive Kind," co-tack a symbol they call the enemy.

"But the enemy is simply their own unconscious projections symbolized by a racial, religious or economic issue. Or they may simply be against people with red hair or people who are cruel to their goldfish."

The result, Brando feels, is war, if no way is found to channel these mass hostilities safely.

But he believes the atom bomb is the world's best hope for peace:

"If a man—or a statesman—feels that something of himself will live on—his principles or his children—he is willing to die for the preservation of what he believes in."

"But when he knows that he will die and nothing will be left—no one will remain to mourn his sacrifice, appreciate his heroism or carry on his principles—then he is bound to give a second thought about going to war.

"That is the singular change the atom bomb has made."

Russian Pressure Doesn't Add Up

By George Sokolsky

No matter how one analyzes the Russian pressure for a summit conference, it does not add up. The Geneva Conference could have reached some conclusion; it did not because obviously Khrushchev will not permit a conclusion to be reached except when he is present. All the time that the last Geneva Conference was in session, he sabotaged it from the sidelines. Now that another Geneva Conference is in session, it will be interesting to see whether he can remain silent for the duration.

According to Frol Kozlov, the current Geneva Conference will propose an 18-month truce. The best hope for it is that the entire subject of Berlin will be postponed until 1961, which is a long way off. Perhaps the Russians are hopeful that the 1960 election in the United States will bring Democrats into office and that they will fare better with a Democrat than with a Republican. Surely, there can be no basis for such a treasonable thought. Kozlov must have learned that so far as Russia is concerned we are a united press.

There is a further weakness in Russian thought on the summit conference. It is based on the assumption that the President of the United States can do as he chooses. Perhaps the Russians have reached that conclusion from Stalin's experience with Franklin D. Roosevelt at Teheran and Yalta. Roosevelt always went off on his own and managed to get the Senate to go along with him.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg, who was the Republican leader in foreign affairs during Roosevelt's Administrations, went along with the President although he had started his career as a Middle Western isolationist.

In fact, except for a few irreconcilables, Roosevelt had little trouble with his Republicans.

However, times are different now and no President can do many of the things Roosevelt did or assume such great national obligations as Roosevelt did at Yalta. It would not be tolerated today.

What a summit conference entails for a President of the United States is a constant pressure on the part of the Russians for an immediate decision on specific matters which are beyond the authority of the President to make without the advice and consent of the Senate. And when a matter involves Senatorial consent, it also involves open debate and free discussion in the press.

Roosevelt had a war to help him. Eisenhower does not have equal power of secrecy and censorship. As a matter of fact, the American people regard the present indirect censorship as excessive and there can be little question but that sooner or later the chairman of some Congressional committee will make himself a reputation by exposing the free use of such rubber stamps as "Classified," "Secret," etc. This can be and undoubtedly is a form of censorship not authorized by an act of Congress but characteristically retained by military men and other officials since war days.

Khrushchev has sent two emissaries here to try out the American people. Mikoyan did quite well in his public relations although he left no permanent impression behind him, except that as a salesman he tried to over-sell his product. Kozlov did not do so well in his public relations, perhaps because he had never been here before and he is not a particularly clever person. He also believes in Soviet propaganda, namely, that a capitalist will do anything for a dollar—sell his mother into prostitution, pervert his own children and betray his country. In his private conversations with businessmen, he has been offering more than he has to give and some of his barter promises are too ridiculous except for the most naive businessmen.

However, the Bolshoi Ballet was a success and it is presumed that the Moscow State Orchestra will be a success. What such performances do for peace, it is yet to be seen. Thus far, Gromyko seems not to be affected by them.

None of this people-to-people business has produced any practical results. Soviet Russia proceeds on its imperialist way and will not change its world program because a few well-dressed capitalists applaud a ballet dancer or laugh at one of Mikoyan's jokes. The solid business of averting war is still ahead of both countries and will have to be based on something more solid than a male dancer jumping in the air.

Mothers-to-be Watch Diet

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Expectant mothers should get plenty of milk, eggs, fruits, vegetables, bread, cereals, meat, fish and poultry—every day.

Doctors have been issuing such advice ever since I can remember and probably for much longer than that.

But relatively few of them explain why such foods are essential. Mothers-to-be realize vaguely that these foods are good for them and the baby, but they don't know exactly how.

Well, I would like to offer a few simple explanations today, along with a few tips.

You need at least a quart of milk a day to help your baby develop strong bones and good teeth. The calcium it contains is extremely important to the developing child. Milk also helps form muscles, healthy blood and other tissues.

A serving is at least three ounces of cooked meat, and don't count the fat or bones. As a guide, you can use one of four patties made from a pound of ground meat for a single serving.

You should have three or four servings of whole grain, enriched or restored bread or cereals every day. These foods are excellent sources of energy and also help build strong muscles, good blood and healthy body tissues. One serving is one slice of bread or one-half to one-third cup of cereal.

Question and Answer

Mr. J. H. H.: What causes a young man to grind his teeth at night?

Answer: Teeth grinding at night is usually related to nervousness and tension. A hot bath or a hot drink before retiring may serve to relax the individual and prevent this situation.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's visit to the Soviet Union and his interview with Premier Nikita Khrushchev probably won't solve anything. It would be too much to expect. After all, it's billed as a goodwill tour.

If there is any solution of anything it almost certainly will have to come from Khrushchev, not from Nixon. Newsmen were told Monday Nixon is bearing no special message from President Eisenhower.

And Nixon on his own doesn't have the authority to deal with the Soviet leader as Eisenhower could if the two met later in a summit conference. But Khrushchev can suit himself on what he says or does.

Judging from what newsmen were told the vice president is going to be polite but firm. He is going to say the United States will not back up on Berlin.

But this is hardly news, since Eisenhower has already said the same thing a number of times. It's possible that Khrushchev, using bait to get Eisenhower into a summit conference, might make some concessions to Nixon.

It's hardly likely unless the performance of Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko at Geneva all these weeks has been a stall to kill time until Khrushchev, meeting Nixon, could propose a deal on Berlin.

Gromyko, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, and the foreign ministers of Britain and France have been meeting with a brief interval, since May 11 at Geneva on the future of Berlin.

Khrushchev has demanded the allies get their troops out of the German city. All these weeks of talk have been a kind of ring-around-the-rosy dance, getting nowhere, solving nothing.

While Nixon is with Khrushchev, newsmen were told, he will try to turn the meeting into a far-ranging review of such East-West issues as Berlin, disarmament, atomic testing and trade.

Although Eisenhower has laid down a condition to be met before he agrees to meet Khrushchev—there must be some progress at Geneva—Khrushchev has shown no willingness to have the meeting at the cost of any major Soviet concession.

There is no reason to think from his unbending attitude so far—that he will melt at the sight of Nixon. But, since he is mercurial and unpredictable, it's easy to guess how and why he might do one of two things.

1. He has shown contempt for any meeting of foreign ministers to deal with major problems. He considers it a waste of time. In his view only the top men can really settle anything.

That's why he wants a summit meeting. Just to prove that big men together can solve things—and that the foreign ministers' meeting is eyewash—he might propose some deals to Nixon for relay to Eisenhower.

That is, if he considers Nixon big enough to do business with all.

2. If he doesn't, then he may talk tough turkey to the vice president, with the suggestion that if Eisenhower wants to find East-West answers the place to look for them is at a meeting with Khrushchev.

So—as Nixon starts out for his tour Wednesday, he may be full of hope for something good. But since he is a political realist, he can hardly come back disappointed if all Khrushchev says is "hello."

Rattlers Bite

Religious Cultrist

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — Bitten three times by rattlesnakes, a member of a religious group was under hospital care today. Doctors said he might lose his left arm.

"I've got no fight against medicine," said 34-year-old Earl Atkins of Stanfield. "If you can't get hold of the power of God, medicine is a wonderful thing."

A timber rattler and a diamond back snake, each about 3 1/2 feet long, bit Atkins on his left wrist Saturday night as he was taking the snakes from a box at his home prior to religious services at a church.

The cult's doctrine requires members to handle snakes to test their faith.

The solid business of averting war is still ahead of both countries and will have to be based on something more solid than a male dancer jumping in the air.

Roosevelt had a war to help him. Eisenhower does not have equal power of secrecy and censorship. As a matter of fact, the American people regard the present indirect censorship as excessive and there can be little question but that sooner or later the chairman of some Congressional committee will make himself a reputation by exposing the free use of such rubber stamps as "Classified," "Secret," etc. This can be and undoubtedly is a form of censorship not authorized by an act of the Senate. And when a matter involves Senatorial consent, it also involves open debate and free discussion in the most naive businessmen.

However, the Bolshoi Ballet was a success and it is presumed that the Moscow State Orchestra will be a success. What such performances do for peace, it is yet to be seen. Thus far, Gromyko seems not to be affected by them.

None of this people-to-people business has produced any practical results. Soviet Russia proceeds on its imperialist way and will not change its world program because a few well-dressed capitalists applaud a ballet dancer or laugh at one of Mikoyan's jokes. # Tight Money's Visible Effect Growing Plain

Some House-Building
To Be Delayed; Auto
Purchases Postponed

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — It's harder and costlier now to get the money to build a house or buy a car or run your business. The same goes for running the government or building a school where you live. And it's also true if you want a loan from your banker to take care of pressing and maybe unexpected bills.

It means that maybe some homes won't be built and some car purchases will be put off and some businesses will wait before starting or expanding.

The U.S. Treasury has to pay the higher price for money because it has payrolls and other obligations to meet. But some school boards and local governments will put off improvements they'd like to make. And some common stock buffs fear that the higher yields on bonds now may lead you out of the common stock market into the bond market.

How serious will all this be to the economy? Will it throttle a healthy growth? Or will it in the long run stave off more inflation—which to most of us simply means will it keep prices from taking off again on a sprint instead of just a slow creeping pace?

In the financial marts the visible effects of tight money are plain. The U.S. Treasury has to pay 4 1/4 per cent on 12 1/2 month notes to keep holders of maturing issues from demanding cash. It's the highest rate since 1928. Only a little while back Uncle Sam could get that kind of money for 2 per cent.

Corporations have had to offer 3 per cent or more to sell new bond issues. Yields on the best quality of tax-exempt municipal or state bonds have gone to 4 per cent or more, when 1 1/2 per cent once did the job.

Businessmen seeking loans at the bank pay from 1/2 to 1 per cent more than a few months back—many now pay 6 per cent.

In the consumer section of the economy—installment and mortgage charges have risen and interest ceilings on government backed mortgages have had to be jacked up because builders couldn't find lenders willing to put up funds at the old rates. Six per cent is now common in the non-guaranteed market.

To the ordinary citizen this means that monthly payments on what he might like to buy on the cuff are higher now than a year ago. Rising mortgage rates mean that home buyers pay more in the long run for a new house.

Increasingly of late would-be borrowers have been told the bank just was loaned up and couldn't help them.

All of this adds up to a curb on spending.

The money managers say this is necessary, that too easy money at the start of a boom would lead to speculation and an inevitable bust.

Those who think there should be more consumer spending and more outlay by new and growing business firms protest that tight money will keep the economy from reaching the level it should and kill prosperity rather than protect it from the risks of boom and bust.

What's Inside the Earth?

U.S. Survey Is Completed On Vast 'Operation Mohole'

Editor's Note—One of the most ambitious scientific undertakings of our time is the Mohole project: an attempt to find out what's inside the earth. The only science writer accompanying ocean research vessels on a preliminary exploration describes the expedition in this first in a four-part series written exclusively for The Associated Press.

ABOARD RESEARCH VESSEL VEMA (AP)—Four United States research vessels have just completed the first survey for what promises to be one of the great science adventures of the century.

A hundred and fifty miles out in the Atlantic north of Puerto Rico, they have been looking for a place to drill a hole through the earth's crust.

The hole is expected to answer such age-old questions as what the inside of the earth is really made of. It will go all the way down to the mantle, the thick band of rock surrounding the earth's molten inner core.

The oceans are a key factor in weather and climate. Geologists say that they are also a major arena for the forces that create continents, raise mountains and stir up volcanoes and earthquakes. The sea is home to countless forms of life, past and present, not found on land.

New Liquor Board Setup Explained

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy said today a bill pending in the Legislature to make changes in the Board of Liquor Control does not constitute a reorganization creating a need for new appointments to the board.

The House bill provides for changes in salary of board members, provides that the chairman be an attorney and makes changes in the jurisdiction of the board. But it would not abolish the board, McElroy said.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, in asking the formal opinion, said he was under the impression that an entirely new board would have to be appointed.

The survey covered an area of the Atlantic known as the outer ridge, where the water is 3 1/2 miles deep and the earth's crust is nearly three miles thick. A possible drilling site in the Pacific off the West Coast is also being surveyed. A final decision on just where the Mohole will be drilled will be made after a six-month study of data.

I found ocean research fascinating—and no game for the seasick-prone, or anyone afraid to wet his hands on deck.

Oceanographers work chiefly from small, rough-riding vessels; big ships cost too much. Quarters are cramped. Heavy gear must be put over the side and retrieved, and high explosives handled on pitching, tossing, slippery decks.

'Mad Dog' Youth Kills Doctor, Girl

QUAKER, Mo. (AP) — A coroner's inquest and a murder warrant today await a 19-year-old youth accused of the "mad dog" slaying of a former county judge and a teen-age girl.

Robert Carr, Washington County prosecuting attorney, said a first-degree murder warrant will be filed today against John Crump, described by Sheriff Thomas B. Allen as a "hard boiled punk."

Carr said Crump's 14-year-old accomplice, John Edward Davis, would be charged with delinquency.

Authorities said Crump told them the slaying spree Saturday night started as a plan to take the car of the slain man "to go out and have a big time."

Leonard (Lynn) Barr, 57, a former Washington County judge, was shot in his general store while preparing a sandwich for the two youths.

Sheriff Allen said the boys ran to Barr's home next door and shot his wife, Valrie, 52, when she refused to hand over the car keys. Crump clubbed the Barr's daughter, Ella Jo, 16, and her friend, Bobbie Lou Shipp, 17, of Belgrade, Mo., with his 12-gauge shotgun, the sheriff said. Bobbie Lou was killed. Mrs. Barr and her daughter are in critical condition at Bonne Terre (Mo.) Hospital. The shotgun was broken by the blows.

Davis and Crump are from Quaker, Mo., 10 miles west of Quaker. Davis told authorities he had no active part in the slayings.

Chicago Gang Killing Job Is 'Bungled'

CHICAGO (AP)—A beer distributor indicted two months ago by a federal grand jury lay near death today after being gunned down in what police described as a bobbled attempt at a gangland-style assassination.

Victim of the attack Sunday by two gunmen, their faces blackened in disguise, was Joseph Bronge, 50, of suburban Melrose Park. He is the only person indicted to date by a special grand jury which has been seeking possible links between organized crime and beer distribution.

Police Chief Marvin Giles of Melrose Park called the shooting a "professional job, badly bungled."

Giles said witnesses reported the assailants wounded Bronge in the head in front of his suburban office. Bleeding heavily, he fled to the rear of an apartment building where a gate blocked his path. Bronge fumbled with the latch,

Television Insists Changes Needed in Language Usage

NEW YORK (AP) — Television, while still in its infancy, is effecting some interesting changes in language usage. As a public service (used in its pre-TV context) we present herewith some old words with new meanings; that is, as far as we can determine. From steady viewing and constant reading of network press releases.

Series — One idea repeated 39 different times by one or more steadily employed actors.

Wonderful — A word used in place of Mr. or Miss before the name of a guest star on a variety show.

Guest star — A performer who couldn't get his own series.

Special added attraction — A performer with a better agent than a guest star's.

Ad lib — Any line on the cue cards misread by a performer.

New (motion picture used) — Seen by 100 million people since it was made in 1932, but never before shown on this channel in this town.

New (commercial) — The package our product comes in has been redesigned.

New (performer) — This actor never has been on the Ed Sullivan Show.

Anthology — A batch of old reruns with a new host.

Host — Any performer who prepares the audience for the station break.

Station-break — A period which seems to last slightly longer than the entertainment and during which it is possible to wash the dinner dishes.

News-in-depth — A show equipped with a voice-of-doom commentator and a bunch of old newsreel clips.

Special news program — A program which results when a network finds it has 3,000 feet of film on a subject nobody knows much about but which cost so much to get they don't want to throw it away.

Public service show — Any program without a sponsor.

Educational TV — Any program featuring college graduates with good English and a small audience.

Adult entertainment — Any program which includes one damn and two hells.

Writer — A name given to any person behind the cameras for whom no other title can be dreamed up.

Original teleplay — This has been a book, a Broadway play and a movie, but it's never before been done in 30 minutes on TV.

ABOARD RESEARCH VESSEL VEMA (AP)—Four United States research vessels have just completed the first survey for what promises to be one of the great science adventures of the century.

A hundred and fifty miles out in the Atlantic north of Puerto Rico, they have been looking for a place to drill a hole through the earth's crust.

The hole is expected to answer such age-old questions as what the inside of the earth is really made of. It will go all the way down to the mantle, the thick band of rock surrounding the earth's molten inner core.

The drilling scheme has been dubbed the Mohole project because the hole is to pierce a layer within the earth called the Moho. The Mohole will be bored beneath the sea since the earth's crust is thinner below the ocean than on land.

Still, the hole will have to be several miles deep. And it will have to be drilled beneath miles of deep water—a feat never attempted before.

For several weeks, I have been aboard the "flagship" of the survey flotilla, the Columbia University research ship Vema.

The Mohole survey was directed by Vema's chief scientist, Dr. John E. Nafe. The other research ships were Gibbs, from Hudson Laboratories, a Navy laboratory operated by Columbia; Bear, from the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution in Massachusetts; and Hidalgo, from Texas A&M College.

The survey covered an area of the Atlantic known as the outer ridge, where the water is 3½ miles deep and the earth's crust is nearly three miles thick. A possible drilling site in the Pacific off the West Coast is also being surveyed.

Get Your Daughter's Ideas When Decorating Her Room

By ELEANOR ROSS

Does the young heiress in your house need a new bedroom, or, at least, does her room need a doing over? Chances are that it does or she says it does!

Well, humor her. Put your heads, your decorating skills and your paint brushes together and thus make it less work and more fun for both of you.

If your girl is already a teenager she will, no doubt, have quite definite ideas regarding her choice of colors. Sound her out. You may be happily astonished at her aesthetic flair. After all, it's her room and unless she wants purple walls and black upholstery, she should be allowed to select what she wants — with mother acting as guide, of course.

No need to spend a fortune on the job. Wonders can be wrought with a bucket of paint. Then, after the walls are painted, try rearranging the furniture and hang-fresh draperies. A new spread which contrasts with the walls of the room is another worthwhile touch.

And don't forget the floors. If they are painted or varnished, give them a fresh coat, too; then, perhaps, a nice new cotton shag rug to finish the underfoot job.

Plan the color scheme with your daughter with an eye to the use of the room.

If there's a long homework period daily, then cool, quiet colors, such as blues, greens, pale pastels, are good. These colors, plus ivory and white, reflect the most light and provide the best atmosphere for concentrating on school books.

Painting the ceiling white will do much to protect the eyes from glare, too. Always use a flat paint on ceilings and walls for this reason.

Semi-gloss and gloss paints are ideal for woodwork, trim and furniture, because they can take more general wear and tear and can be scrubbed.

If new furniture is part of the plan, give your daughter the choice between having a conventional bedroom or a bed-sitting room.

If she decides on the sitting room, try painting the wall against which the backless couch sits with a multi-colored paint. No amount of head-resting will mar the surface.

Pine or maple are appropriate for a girl's room, and a fine budget saving is available in smart, unpainted units that can be either stained or enameled.

Don't forget bookcases. Paint them either to match the walls, especially if the room is small, or paint in contrast if the room is large.

A decorating ensemble might include a room with pale pink walls, white ceiling, taupe floor, furniture in pine-color stain and woodwork and ivory-flowered chintz for draperies. A pretty pale green chintz or corduroy bedspread and fuchsia accents make for a crisp color scheme.

Another ensemble might be built around white ceiling, pale blue walls and warm gray floor. The furniture could be done in multi-color paint, combining blue with neutral hues. Woodwork and trim could be done in ivory or pale blue, with yellow gingham for draperies and spread and yellow accents.

We saw a charming room done in ivory with the floor beige, the ceiling white. The furniture had natural finish and turquoise enamel. The woodwork and trim were in ivory, the draperies of turquoise blue burlap.

The accents used many yellow and orange tones. The bedspread was a pale yellow and tobacco-brown print.

You can save time if when laundering ruffled curtains, you starch only the ruffles and the tie backs. You will find the curtains can be ironed in about half the time, will have a crisp fresh look and last longer.

"We have better hamburgers in Moscow," said Clara Pobedinskaya, young Russian fashion designer, sampling America's favorite food during a recent luncheon fashion show at a plush Fifth avenue hotel.

"At home we would flavor them with onions and garlic, and our meat would not taste so obviously frozen," she added.

Clara is in New York in connection with the Moscow exhibit at the Coliseum, where a number of her fashion designs are shown. She is designer for Moscow's leading department store, where she says they have a fashion show almost every day, attended often by husbands as well as wives.

During luncheon, where she was a guest at the closing session of the New York Dress Institute's National Press Week showings of fall fashions, Clara surveyed the American clothes with a wary eye and pronounced them "very pleasant."

Neither she nor either of her two companions, designer Lydia Danilina and Alexi Bubichev, director of the all union house of fashion in Moscow, would exhibit any enthusiasm for the American fashions shown. Grimly, they refused to be impressed.

All spoke through an interpreter, and insisted Moscow fashions were "much the dam."

Yanks in Middle Of Tribe-Chisox Battle for Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The American League pennant race, suddenly a see-saw shindig between the Cleveland Indians and Chicago White Sox, jumps into another trying two weeks for the two leaders with the New York Yankees once more right in the middle.

The Yankees, not quite feeble and not quite robust, still are fourth, 5½ games shy of the lead after knocking both the Indians and White Sox out of first in a four-day spurt. The Yankees open a three-game series at Cleveland tonight.

The Injuns at the moment are back in first, by the slimmest margin possible, a matter of one percentage point. They made it when they split a doubleheader at Boston Sunday while the White Sox were losing a twinbill at New York.

Just last Thursday, it was the White Sox who took the lead by splitting a doubleheader at Boston while the Yankees took two from the Indians.

No games were scheduled in the AL Monday.

Cleveland's still tops in the AL despite only a 6-6 record since the All-Star game break. The White Sox are 8-4 in that span, with third-place Baltimore, 3½ games back, 7-5. The Yankees have won only six of 13 since the All-Star game.

You have to look deep to find the secret of Cleveland's success—second division deep. The Injuns now stand 5½ against the White Sox for the season, and 5-6 against Baltimore, 6-8 against New York. But they're 34-15 against the second division, getting most of their help from a 10-3 score against last-place Boston.

That's the way the Tribe won the flag in 1954, running up a record AL winning total of 111.

That's a pretty snappy formula the Los Angeles Dodgers have come up with in their run for the National League pennant—pitch Don Drysdale, score three and they're home free.

Any club that scores twice against the big, cross-firing right-hander has had it.

It was Drysdale who got the Dodgers started on their jump from fifth place when he blanked Milwaukee 4-0 June 15. In the five weeks since, the Dodgers have won 21, lost but 13. Drysdale has a 7-1 record for that spurt—and not once has he given up more than two runs in a game.

He won his 12th with the help of home runs from Gil Hodges and Charlie Neal Monday, pitching the Dodgers to a 3-2 victory in the opener of a two-game set with San Francisco that pushed Los Angeles within 1½ games of the first-place Giants.

It was Drysdale's third in a row since the All-Star game (when he pitched a hitless three innings for the winning NL) and ended Johnny Antonelli's win string at four in a double four-hit duel.

Only one other game was scheduled in the NL. St. Louis gained a fifth place tie with Chicago by beating the Cubs 2-0 Monday night behind the nine-hit pitching of Ernie Broglio.

Stamin' Gets No. 4 Post for Champion Trot

Stamin' Demon, George W. Van Camp's prize trotter, has drawn the No. 4 post position for the $50,000 National Championship Trot Thursday night at Yonkers Raceway in New York.

George Phalen, popular driver, will be at the reins when the local pacer-turned-trotter makes a bid to add to his many pacing and trotting honors.

Rosburg Pockets Utah Open Purse

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Bob Rosburg of Palo Alto, Calif., sank an eight-foot putt on the 18th hole without even bothering to look over the terrain and won the $7,500 Utah Open golf tournament by one stroke Monday.

He had been missing putts all day when he took time to calculate the lay of the land so he didn't see much sense in wasting time on his final shot, Rosburg said.

Ed (Porky) Oliver of Denver started the final 18 holes one stroke behind Rosburg but was two strokes ahead until the 17th.

He won second-place money with a 72-hole total of 276.

Rosburg's score was 275, 13 under par.

National Open champion Billy Casper of Chula Vista, Calif., finished third with 277.

Clarksburg Halts Local Stars, 1-0

The Circleville Little League Majors All-Stars ran into a blazing right-hander last night and fell to their first defeat in as many outings, 1-0, at the hands of Clarksburg.

B. Reisinger spun a web around All Star bats and only Ronnie Seward untangled enough to garner the lone hit by Circleville, a single. In going the route, Reisinger, a well known name in Ross County athletic circles, fanned 10 and walked two.

Clarksburg unwound for three hits during the contest, one a double by Ater and a triple by winner B. Reisinger. Clarksburg tallied the only run in the third inning.

After Hurst walked and was thrown out at second on B. Jones' fielders choice, Cleary walked and Penne struck out before Ater unloaded his RBI double.

DAVID GREEN was doing the honors for the All-Star mound corps at this time and absorbed the defeat. Circleville used five hurlers in all.

Both teams played errorless baseball in a contest that was over almost before it started. Clarksburg got a hit each off Jeff Lutz, Skit Lutz and loser Green.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Daughter, 12, Guides Mother

DEAR ABBY: I once heard an old lady say, "When children are young they step on your toes and when they are older, they step on your heart." These are the truest for anyone. She is a pretty girl but has the ugliest disposition I ever saw for a girl her age.

The kids get worse every day. Is it because they get too much? I know I am not the only mother with this problem because I hear other mothers say the same thing. I wish you could give me some good advice. I am at my wits' end.

MRS. C.

DEAR MRS. C.: By the time a child in 12, you either have the CHILD trained or the child HAS YOU trained. Giving a child "too much" will not spoil him unless he has had "too little" discipline. It's pretty late for new rules at your house, but if I were you, I'd get in the driver's seat and lay down the law.

DEAR ABBY: We had the sad experience of losing a premature baby girl. She lived only five days. We named her.

We are wondering if it would be

Steel Strike Adding More To Idle List

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Layoffs of workers continue to mount in businesses affected by the nationwide steel strike, one week old today.

An estimated 45,000 employees of railroads, coal mining firms, shipping companies and other businesses are off the job.

In Cleveland Monday 1,900 more workers were furloughed, increasing to 3,900 the number laid off since the strike began.

Several hundred truck drivers were laid off by Cleveland firms that haul steel. The Baltimore & Ohio railroad laid off 50 workers in Cleveland and 200 in the Youngstown, Niles and Warren sections of Ohio. Three Great Lakes shipping companies furloughed 850 seamen because cargoes of ore could not be unloaded at steel mill piers.

The General Refractories Co. announced in Philadelphia 500 workers have been sent home because refractory brick can't be shipped to the steel mills.

The Delaware & Hudson Railroad said in New York it has had to drop 155 men from payrolls in its Colonia and Oneonta shops because of reduced shipments. Most of the men were given vacations.

In Roanoke, Va., the Norfolk and Western Railway laid off 852 railroaders.

Russian Orthodox Priest Dies at Age of 31

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Very Rev. Archpriest Joseph J. Bonush, 31-year-old pastor of St. Theodosius Russian Orthodox Cathedral, died Monday in Cleveland Clinic Hospital. He became ill two weeks ago while on a vacation trip with his family to his native upstate New York.

The cathedral parish he had headed for more than a year and a half has almost 2,000 member-families and is one of the largest of the 350 Russian Orthodox parishes in the United States. Services of divine liturgy will be Thursday with burial in Binghamton, N. Y.

Ohio Assembly Strives for Adournment

The Senate, after a slow start on what appears to be the final legislative week, is scheduled for floor votes today. House-approved bills:

Create an industrial and economic commission, an act which DiSalle has described as "possibly one of the most important of this Legislature."

Replace the present State Civil Service Commission with a state personnel department.

Enlarge the present four-member State Racing Commission with a five-member unit headed by a so-called racing czar.

Also on the Senate calendar is a House-approved bill which would grant a joint fishing license to husband and wife.

DiSalle's objections to the milk bill were filed before final legislative action on his veto of the so-called fair-trade bill. The House has overridden the fair-trade veto, but there is a fair chance the veto will be upheld in the Senate.

The milk bill veto is closely allied to the fair-trade bill veto. The governor said his milk bill veto was to prevent the state from policing the milk industry. He added:

"It would require the state to establish a complete system of supervision and control with life-and-death power over each individual dairy in the state of Ohio. . . . This bill is legislation in restraint of competition . . . and I am convinced beyond any doubt that its ultimate result would be the placing of floors under prices and a substantial increase in the cost of dairy products to the Ohio consumer."

The House, meanwhile, virtually completed action on Senate-approved bills to:

Replace the Ohio Water Resources Board with a seven-member water commission with broad power to co-ordinate Ohio's water program.

Stiffen the state penalty for dumping trash on private property.

Increase the limit on fines and fees which could be used for expanding county law libraries.

After traveling three-fourths of the legislative route, a bill to require the symbols of "Light and Flight" to appear on Ohio's auto license tags was tabled by a House vote of 66-54. The director of highway safety frowned on the proposal of Sen. Tennyson Guyer (R-Hancock) as a move to clutter the state's traditionally austere license plates. The vote to table kills the proposal for this session.

The Senate virtually completed passage of House-approved bills to:

Permit building and loan associations to make home improvement loans.

Require flashing lights on slow-moving vehicles.

Permits counties to set up rehabilitation work camps for youthful offenders under 25.

Permit Kent State and Bowling Green State Universities to grant doctorates in education.

Permits taking of smelt in Lake Erie by experimental devices to increase food supply of game fish.

The House passed a Senate-approved bill to increase the 25-cent fee of a deputy registrar of motor vehicles to 35 cents for issuing auto licenses.

The House passed unanimously a bill by Sen. Ed Witmer (D-Stark) to require proper labeling of household goods which are poisonous, toxic or noxious.

Red Cross Officials Answer Blood Program Questions

Questions concerning the Pickaway County Chapter of the American Red Cross Bloodmobile operation were answered today by its executive secretary, Mrs. Roliff Wofford.

Who may give?

Anyone between the ages of 18 and 59, who is in good health and weighs at least 110 pounds. People who weigh less may donate pediatric units for use for children.

Those who are aged 18 to 20 and unmarried must have a signed parental consent.

Isn't it dangerous to give blood?

As long as the chapter and Berger Hospital participate in the Columbus Regional Blood Program, no patient is ever required to replace or pay for the blood which is used for him.

However, most doctors and hospitals suggest that patients and their families make every effort to have the blood replaced in order that others who need it, may have it.

If this county did not participate in the program, every patient would be required to replace each pint of Red Cross collected blood.

No one is allowed to make a donation unless he is physically able to do so. A doctor is on duty

Full Night Session Idea Eyed by OSU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University says its hopes to start second shift classes within the next 10 years. They would start late in the afternoon, perhaps around 4 p.m., and permit persons who work all day to pursue full study programs toward degrees.

The university offers part-time study and evening classes now, but not enough to earn a degree. Planners said such a schedule might be started by 1969 and could "easily be large enough in numbers to justify a board offering of courses and even full degree programs in the less specialized fields."

Dr. G. Robert Holsinger Jr., assistant dean in the College of Arts and Sciences, has been named by the Board of Trustees to the newly-created post of coordinator of part-time education, where he will work on the long range plan.

Reporting after a conference between faculty and administrative personnel, Dr. Frederick W. Heimberger, university vice president for instruction and research, said: "It is not wild dreaming to look forward to a day when many of our ablest students will be employed six or seven hours a day and, at the same time pursue full degree programs in the university."

During 1960-61 the university hopes to set up a late afternoon and evening program generally comparable to those offered at its Newark, Marion and Mansfield branches. Then, in 1962-64, a few carefully chosen degree programs, plus a broad offering of general purpose courses and advanced study, not necessarily leading to a degree, would be added.

POMEROY, Ohio (AP) — A Jeffery, W. Va., man Rutherford G. Harless, 45, of Letart Falls, died Sunday of a skull fracture incurred when the car overturned on Ohio 338. Both he and Manley were thrown out of the auto.

Safety Consideration Seen Delaying U.S. Space Travel

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — We "in three or four years." He offered no prediction as to when Russia might do it.

Clark, active in guided missile studies and operations for the past five years, acknowledged that the nation's defense against ballistic missiles is "practically nonexistent," but said that U.S. Scientists are engaged in 60 or 70 different studies seeking to develop an effective defense.

Those are the views of Rear Adm. John E. Clark, deputy director of the Advanced Research Projects Agency, which coordinates space research for the Defense Department. He was here to address a session of a two-day American Rocket Society conference on space vehicle fuels.

Russia's security system gives it an edge in the race, Clark said. The Soviets can "take far greater risks than we can because if a man died in the attempt, no one would know it," he stressed. "In the United States, if an American was killed, everyone would know."

Still, the admiral estimated that America may get a man into space and safely back to earth

Woman Faces Hearing In Slaying of Husband

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Leola Singer, 39, of Zanesville was to be arraigned today on a second-degree murder charge filed against her Monday. She was to appear before Municipal Judge Charles Hendershot in connection with the shotgun death of her husband, Clifford, 41, last Friday night. Police said Mrs. Singer admitted firing the fatal shot but that she claimed it was an accident. Prosecutor Joseph W. McNeely said Mrs. Singer refused to take a lie detector test.

World Scout Jamboree Has Water Shortage

MT. MAKILING, Philippines (AP) — Boy Scouts from 51 countries clamed for baths today as a water shortage plagued the 10th World Scout Jamboree camp here for the fourth day.

"We have drinking water, all right," said a 17-year-old Greek scout, "but none of us has had a bath in four days."

Twenty fire trucks carrying water from the U.S. Navy and villages surrounding Jamboree City alleviated a desperate situation this morning but that was a makeshift at best.

About 18,000 letters written by Thomas Jefferson are still in existence.

Red Cross Officials Answer Blood Program Questions

Questions concerning the Pickaway County Chapter of the American Red Cross Bloodmobile operation were answered today by its executive secretary, Mrs. Roliff Woldorf.

Who may give?

Anyone between the ages of 18 and 59, who is in good health and weighs at least 110 pounds. People who weigh less may donate pediatric units for use for children. Those who are aged 18 to 20 and unmarried must have a signed parental consent.

Isn't it dangerous to give blood?

As long as the chapter and Berger Hospital participate in the Columbus Regional Blood Program, no patient is ever required to replace or pay for the blood which is used for him.

However, most doctors and hospitals suggest that patients and their families make every effort to have the blood replaced in order that others who need it, may have it.

If this county did not participate in the program, every patient would be required to replace each pint of Red Cross collected blood used.

If THE HOSPITAL were required to purchase its supply of blood from a commercial blood bank, the patient would be billed from $25 to $50 per pint.

Residents of Pickaway County received 760 pints of blood during the year 1958. If they had been required to pay for this blood at the rate of $25 per pint it would have cost them a total of $19,000.

When this figure is compared with the $3,600 spent by the Red Cross in cooperating in the program it doesn't seem that the people of Pickaway County can afford not to support their blood program—not only with their money, but also with their blood.

Is it necessary to make an appointment to give blood?

It is not necessary, but desirable. The local office of the Red Cross must call the center the day before the operation to inform them of the number of names on the schedule sheet and the number of donors expected.

It is on the basis of this report that the center sends equipment and personnel with the mobile unit. If a large group of donors appear without advance registration, it may be necessary for them to wait in line.

EVEN THOUGH the donor may not be sure of the time he may be able to come, it would be most helpful just to know that he plans to make a donation sometime during the day.

Can my donation here be used to meet a need of some member of my family in another section of the country?

Yes. Donors in any of the 54 regional areas can have blood transferred for family members in any of the other regions. Such service is also possible through cooperation with other blood bank associations and individual hospitals not participating in the Red Cross Blood Program, if the receiving hospital will agree to accept a transfer of blood or blood credit.

Reporting after a conference between faculty and administrative personnel, Dr. Frederick W. Heimberger, university vice president for instruction and research, said:

"It is not wild dreaming to look forward to a day when many of our ablest students will be employed six or seven hours a day, and at the same time pursue full degree programs in the university."

Safety Consideration Seen Delaying U.S. Space Travel

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "We don't want to put a man into space until the risk is no greater than for a pilot in an advanced type airplane."

Because of this attitude, the United States may well finish second to Russia in the race to rocket the first man into space.

Those are the views of Rear Adm. John E. Clark, deputy director of the Advanced Research Projects Agency, which coordinates space research for the Defense Department. He was here to address a session of a two-day American Rocket Society conference on space vehicle fuels.

In an interview, Clark said, "We must have a reliable system, thoroughly tested, with reasonable assurance of success," before making any attempts to propel manned rockets into space.

Russia's security system gives it an edge in the race, Clark said. The Soviets can "take far greater risks than we can because if a man died in the attempt, no one would know it," he stressed. "In the United States, if an American was killed, everyone would know."

AEC Hounds May Become Big Success

WASHINGTON (AP) — If they can beat the law of averages and the laws of nature, the Atomic Energy Commission's pack of hound dogs may become howling scientific successes.

At least one of them will have to live to the ripe old canine age of 15 years. If he makes it, he will be the hottest dog in history.

The law of averages is against the approximately 400 dogs of the AEC being used in a 15-year experiment on the effects of radiation. The average life of a dog, say commission experts, is 7 to 10 years.

And the laws of nature, as currently interpreted, say that not even the average dog can stand the amount of radiation the commission's animals will be exposed to.

But Dr. C. L. Dunham, director of the AEC Division of Biology and Medicine, said he has "a hunch that the last dog may live as long as 15 years from birth."

If the doctor's hunch is right, the beagle or foxhound that survives is likely to be so hopped-up from radiation that he could tree a rocket.

Dr. Dunham explained the experiments to the House Appropriations Committee during recent hearings on the AEC's fiscal 1960 budget.

The experiments have been going on since 1951.
